

LONDON PRESS DEFENDS BYNG IN HIS ACTION ON DISSOLUTION

London, July 5.—(By Canadian Press Cable).—Editorially discussing the constitutional situation in Canada, the London Times states specially that Lord Byng did not seek advice of Downing Street. "In the whole of this crisis," it says, "in the refusal of dissolution to the leader of one party and the granting of it to the leader of the other, the governor-general of the dominion appears to have acted, as he was right in acting, solely on his personal judgment and on the advice of his constitutional advisers. It is a fact that he did not consult the imperial government, and that they have made no attempt whatever to interfere with or influence his action. Any such attempt would, of course, have constituted a highly improper encroachment on his functions as the constitutional representative of a constitutional monarchy."

Defends Byng's Action
As to the party conflict in Canada itself over this question, the Times says it is difficult for those who are detached, to see where Lord Byng's action has deviated from the letter and spirit of constitutional law or the dictates of common sense.

"Talk about future governor-generals to be chosen by his majesty on advice of the Canadian government, is altogether beside the point for the present practice is thoroughly familiar to those who seek to inflame passions by language of that kind. It is common knowledge both in the dominions and at home that the Canadian government does indeed exercise very powerful influence in selecting for this high office."

is incontestable that Lord Byng's decision in regard to the dissolution of the Canadian parliament was given in perfect impartiality between the two parties.

"There was no exact precedent to follow. Events have shown that he was wrong, but to make a decision under such circumstances was a very trying task and there will be general sympathy with him in his unenviable position."

"One thing we may take as certain," the Observer declares, "is that Lord Byng, whether rightly or wrongly acted in a crisis of extraordinary difficulty with no thought but that of discharging with the most scrupulous care and impartiality his duty to the people of Canada."

Another British View
London, July 5.—The Evening Standard in an editorial today makes the point that governors-general of Canada are in effect selected by the Dominion, which agrees with the statements of the Times in commenting on the Canadian political developments.

The dominions' office submits names to the dominion parliament, although the latter is not bound to accept one of these names, the Standard continues.

Viscount Willingdon, the Standard says, was not on the list submitted by the Dominion's secretary, but was brought from outside by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King.

"There is, we hope, no truth in the suggestion that Hon. L. C. Amery, secretary for the dominion, influenced Lord Byng's decision on dissolution."

BRIGHT MUNICIPALITY DE-CLINES ON PURCHASE OF RICHARDSON GRADER

The regular monthly meeting of the council of Bright municipality No. 69, was held on Saturday afternoon, the reeve, J. H. Evans presiding.

The usual monthly routine business was gone through and account passed for payment, after which the council discussed the matter of purchasing a new grader. After due consideration of the various makes, they decided to purchase a "Richardson" grader of the latest type, eight feet wide. Mr. Jensen of Calgary, representative of the Richardson company, who was present at the meeting, has promised to give a demonstration of the work of this type of grader, when it arrives in Macleod. The grader is ordered for immediate delivery, as it is required for the extensive road work, which is being carried out in the municipal district this summer.

HON. MR. GUTHRIE GIVES ANSWER TO COMPLAINTS OF OTHER PARTIES

Ottawa, July 6.—"As respects the complaint by Mr. Mackenzie King about the manner of dissolution of parliament, it may be stated that the forms and procedure used followed precisely the same as those prepared and proposed by Mr. King himself just four days previously when he himself sought dissolution of parliament."

This declaration is made in a statement issued last Monday by Hugh Guthrie, acting minister of Justice.

"The effect of the dissolution on pending legislation and supplies was precisely the same as would have been the effect had Mr. King secured a dissolution on the previous Monday."

Graham to Europe
Ottawa, July 5.—(By Canadian Press).—Rt. Hon. G. P. Graham, chief of the new tariff board, has gone to Europe and probably will be away six weeks. For the time being and until Mr. Graham returns, probably after the election, it will probably remain at a standstill.

Whether or not the personnel of the board changes, it is altogether likely that the board itself will remain. The Conservatives as well as the Liberals, advocated the tariff board.

What of D.R.O.'s
Ottawa, July 5.—Some question has arisen as to the status of deputy returning officers under the Elections Act. It is explained that these officers are appointed during pleasure and time. No action in this respect has been taken as yet.

Meighen to Issue Statement
Ottawa, July 5.—Premier Arthur Meighen will probably issue a statement in the course of the day on the question of the constitutionality and legality of the dissolution of parliament last week. It is very unlikely however, that the statement will be available until very late this afternoon or tonight.

So far, it is learned, the actual work of preparing for the coming general election has not yet been started by the chief electoral officer. The first step in this respect is usually the issue of writs, following which work on the new voters' lists begins. Last year, preparation of the lists for the October election occupied approximately fifty-three days and about the same amount of time, it is estimated, will be necessary to put the lists in order this year.

Premier Meighen in deciding upon the date of the election will doubtless give consideration to these facts, all of which lead to the belief that when the date is announced it will be about September 21. At present the premier is taking the initial steps toward formation of his cabinet, the personnel of which will not likely be known before the end of the week at the earliest.

No Statement
Ottawa, July 5.—When the cabinet rose this afternoon Premier Meighen stated that there were no announcements as yet.

Australian Comment
Melbourne, July 5.—(Canadian Press Cable).—There has been no comment in the press here on the present political situation in Canada except insofar as it may affect the imperial conference which is scheduled to take place in London during the month of October.

There will be general regret if the conference is postponed and federal ministers are watching the situation keenly as a postponement would mean an entire change in plans and a program mapped out on the assumption that Premier Stanley Bruce would leave for England at the end of August.

Lennox to Cabinet?
Toronto, July 6.—Col. Herbert Lennox, Conservative member for North York in the last parliament, returned to Ottawa last night at the request of Premier Arthur Meighen. In view of the fact that Mr. Meighen is at present engaged in forming an administration, Col. Lennox's summons to the capital aroused considerable interest in local political circles.

FARMER CAUCUS MEETS TOMORROW

Edmonton, July 7.—The first caucus of farmer members of the legislature since the recent election is scheduled to assemble in this city tomorrow morning. It is expected that all the re-elected farmer members of the house, together with their new colleagues, will attend the meeting.

business to be discussed, it is reported, is the principal item of the agenda. The subject of whether a seat shall be found for Hon. Alex. Ross, defeated in Calgary. The government is reported to be desirous of retaining him in the cabinet as minister of public works, and it is said the ministers have the offer of a seat from one farmer member who is willing to resign to give Mr. Ross a chance.

Another subject to be discussed will be the personnel of the new cabinet.

PREMIER MEIGHEN DID NOT HAVE ASSURANCE FROM PROGRESSIVES

Winnipeg, July 7.—"The responsibility for any misapprehension entertained by His Excellency the governor-general, as to what would be the attitude of myself and other Progressives towards the new prime minister and his 'shadow cabinet' must rest upon Mr. Meighen along with the responsibility for the dissolution of parliament before the fruits of its labors in the past session were garnered," Robert Forke, late house leader of the Progressive group, said in a signed statement here today.

The statement denies that any assurance of Progressive support of the new Meighen ministry had been given either to Baron Byng or to Hon. Arthur Meighen before the latter was sworn in as prime minister and he had never been asked for such assurance.

After the new premier was sworn in, the statement continues, Progressives in caucus passed a resolution for the guidance of Mr. Forke, setting forth their intentions towards the new government, these being dictated by anxiety to preserve the results of the session's labors. The Robb motion declaring the government's conduct of business of parliament unjustifiable was not contemplated at the time the resolution was passed, the statement says, but the argument in support of it convinced the majority of the group that Mr. Meighen was not justified in carrying on.

Nature knows her stuff. She holds back each season just long enough to make us appreciate it when we get it.

THE EMPRESS THEATRE — CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

MAN O' WAR PROVES APT SCREEN ACTOR IN "KENTUCKY PRIDE" — WORDS' GREATEST THOROUGHbred DISPLAYS "LOVABLE VANITY" BEFORE MOVIE CAMERA; DISPLAYS ADMIRATION FOR NERVE OF CAMERAMAN

The world's greatest thoroughbred makes his motion picture debut in "Kentucky Pride," the William Fox supreme attraction which opens Wednesday and Thursday at the Empress Theatre. The mighty Man o' War has turned down many tempting offers to show his paces on the screen. Needless to say it was never a matter of money. He makes this his last as well as his first appearance, just to oblige a lady, thereby living up to his reputation as the first gentleman of the turf.

Virginia's Future is the lady in the case. She is also the star performer in "Kentucky Pride," which is simply the story of her eventful life, as told by herself.

Naturally the principal characters in her autobiography are horses. They include such champions as Negofol, father of Virginia's Future, and the great Morvich, her first husband, who is Man o' War's neighbor and friend; also Fair Play, Man o' War's father, and the Finn, an old family friend. Some humans are unavoidably used in the accessory roles, including among others Henry B. Walthall, J. Farrell MacDonald and Gertrude Astor. John Ford, maker of "The Iron Horse," is the director.

Man o' War was not averse to being photographed, once he took the plunge and had been assured that Mr. Samuel D. Riddle, his owner, and Miss Elizabeth Dainferfield, his custodian, would not disapprove. He has no prejudice against cameras as such. In fact, he is always ready to pose for a friendly snapshot by visitors to Faraway Farm, his Kentucky residence. Miss Dainferfield says that, if the grand horse has a fault, it is a certain "lovable vanity" that leads him to strike his grandest pose and hold it till he hears the click of the camera.

Man o' War certainly acted his prettiest before the motion picture camera, though the strange machine puzzled him at first. It didn't click, but whirled and kept on whirling like a swarm of bees. Besides, there was the unaccounted crank motion.

Eddie Reek, the cameraman, is willing to swear that the great horse was quick to grasp the new requirements. At least he acted so. For he abandoned his classic pose, and after shaking his head thoughtfully for a moment, walked some distance out from the camera, then thundered down upon it in a magnificent charge that displayed his peerless action to the best possible advantage. Ten feet from the camera he suddenly braked himself with all four feet and stood a standstill with his nose almost touching the lens.

Some of those who witnessed Man o' War's charge were badly frightened. They did not know the horse's gentle nature and thought the cameraman was going to be killed sure. Just what Reek thought about it, nobody knows, but he kept on grinding till Man o' War's nose shut off his light. Hon. Man o' War came around the camera and playfully nibbled at Reek's ear. The overwrought spectators laughed at this anti-climax, and some of them maintain that the big horse laughed, too.

They fall in love with him when he saves everyone from an Indian

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN" APPEARS IN COMEDY—ROBERT LEE AND BRIGAM YOUNG ARE OTHER NOTED HISTORICAL CHARACTERS IN GRIFFITH FILM, "HANDS UP," AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Abraham Lincoln, Robert E. Lee, Brigham Young and Sitting Bull are four of the many famous historical characters who provide the serious background for Raymond Griffith's latest Paramount comedy, "Hands Up!", in which the comedian with his high silk hat appears as a "flower of Southern chivalry" and a member of General Lee's staff.

The story is laid in Civil War time, and details Griffith's amazing and amusing ventures as a Confederate spy—his spectacular encounter with Indians, his battle with "road agents," his method of getting possession of a wagon train of gold, and his unique romance with two beautiful girls.

In addition to the historical characters and the hundreds of Indians and soldiers who take part in the production, there are several prominent players who appear in support of Griffith. Marion Nixon and Virginia Lee Corbin are the two leading women who vie with each other for Raymond's affections. Montagu Love, one of the screen's best known dramatic actors, impersonates the Union General; and Montagu Love, famous heavyweight boxer, who has played in many of Charlie Chaplin's pictures, is the owner of the mine around which a good part of the action centers.

The role of Lincoln is handled by George A. Billings, who played the title role in the photoplay, "Abraham Lincoln," and who is generally regarded as the greatest portrayer of our Civil War President in recent years. His resemblance to Lincoln is startling and his long and sincere study of "Honest Abe" heightens the likeness. Incidentally, the entire Lincoln cabinet appears in the film.

"Hands Up!" is an original screen story, written especially for Griffith by Reginald Morris. Monty Brice and Lloyd Corrigan made the adaptation and Clarence Badger directed. The picture opens at the Empress Theatre next Monday for a two days' run.

RAYMOND GRIFFITH IS A ROLLING SPY IN SPIRITED COMEDY, "HANDS UP," AT THE EMPRESS—MONDAY AND TUESDAY

The problem of deciding between the two girls he loves and who love him is one of the many difficulties encountered by Raymond Griffith in his newest starring comedy for Paramount, "Hands Up!" in which he is as fast as a dashing young aide to General Robert E. Lee, fighting for the cause of the Confederacy.

At the time the story opens Lincoln and Lee are equally hard pressed for gold with which to continue their respective campaigns. News is brought to the President of a fabulously wealthy gold mine in Nevada from which he can obtain the necessary money. He dispatches Montagu Love to the West to obtain the metal and bring it to Washington.

Lee sends his brave young aide, a spy and to the West to obtain the Griffith, through the Union lines as gold before the Union agent can get it. Griffith meets Love, his Union rival, and Mack Swain, the owner of the mine, on the stagecoach. He also meets Swain's beautiful niece, Marion Nixon and Virginia Lee Corbin, and falls in love with them immediately.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT IS ISSUED BY MR. MEIGHEN

Ottawa, July 2.—Premier Meighen issued the following statement this afternoon:

"On Monday last the government of Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King suddenly resigned in the midst of the debate on a motion of censure for administration of the customs department. Thereupon his excellency invited me to form a new administration. This I accepted and in order that the work of the session, which was then very near its close, might not be lost, I made temporary arrangements for the ordinary conduct and completion of public business, including passage of necessary supply and the early prorogation of the house."

"During the week the government formed was sustained in several divisions on matters of vital importance, including a decisive vote of censure against the Mackenzie King administration."

"Early this morning on what was really a question of law and admittedly not a question of policy, the government was declared defeated by a majority of one."

"The fact of this defeat, coupled with a consideration of the chaotic condition in which public affairs have been drifting and the too evident instability of government necessitated, in my opinion, an early appeal to dissolve parliament, which advice his excellency has been pleased to accept."

"It is now my duty to complete the organization of the present cabinet, after which the date of the election will immediately be announced."

U.F.A. CANDIDATE DEFEATS LIBERAL CHIEF, J. T. SHAW

	First Count	Second Count
Plummer	863	1039
Shaw	840	1039
Purcell	641

Plummer declared elected.

Although J. T. Shaw is considering applying for a recount of the vote in the Bow Valley river, Ben Plummer, U.F.A. candidate, will be officially declared elected, following the count of second choices on Saturday, which ended in a tie between the Liberal leader and the government candidate.

According to the election regulations in such cases the candidate leading on the first count is elected.

Final Figures
The final figures for the first count are within five of those given by The Herald, following a compilation of returns furnished by the Alberta telephone department. Whereas Mr. Plummer led on the first count by 23, The Herald's compilation gave him a lead of 24.

In the second count it was found that 42 per cent of Purcell's (Cons.) votes were plumps. Of the remainder, the second choices went to Mr. Shaw by a margin sufficient to bring him up to Mr. Plummer's total.

On the actual transfer of Purcell's second choice, Mr. Plummer received 176 and Mr. Shaw 199.

May Ask Recount
On Monday morning Mr. Shaw was indefinite about his intentions. Asked by The Herald if he would apply for a recount, he said that he was considering the matter. The procedure involves an application to a district court judge. He has ten days in which to make the application.

KING ISSUES STATEMENT

Ottawa, July 2.—(Canadian Press).—The following statement was issued this afternoon by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King:

"On Monday of this week I made the following statement in the house of commons:

"The public interest demands a dissolution of this house of commons. As prime minister, I so advised His Excellency, the Governor-General, shortly after noon today. His Excellency having declined to accept my advice to grant a dissolution, to which I believe, under British practice, I was entitled, I immediately tendered my resignation, which His Excellency has been graciously pleased to accept."

"On Tuesday also, the house of commons was informed that the then leader of the opposition, the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, had, on the previous evening, advised His Excellency that he would undertake the task of forming a new administration and that he had been sworn in that morning as premier, secretary of state for external affairs, and president of the privy council. The statement, which it was announced had been prepared by Mr. Meighen as prime minister, concluded as follows:

"The prime minister accordingly decided to constitute and submit to His Excellency a temporary ministry composed of seven members, who would be sworn in without portfolio and who would assume responsibility as acting ministers of the several departments."

No Ministers Sworn In
"On Wednesday the members of the temporary ministry in the house of commons proceeded to have the house vote supply. On being questioned as to their authority to do so, they admitted that not one of their number had been sworn in as a minister of the crown."

"On Thursday, after careful consideration by the house of commons, then assembled, of the unconstitutional nature of the whole proceedings, the following resolution was adopted by the house of commons:

The Critical Motion
"That the actions in this house of the honorable members who have acted as ministers of the crown since the 29th of June, 1926, namely, the honorable members of West York, Fort William, Vancouver, South and the honorable senior member of Halifax are a violation and an infringement of the privileges of this house for the following reasons:

"(1) That the said honorable gentlemen have no right to sit in this house and should have vacated their seats therein if they legally held office as administrators of the various departments assigned to them by order-in-council.

"(2) That if they do not hold such office legally they have no right to conduct the business of government in this house and to ask for supply for the departments of which they state they are acting ministers."

"The adoption of this resolution by the house of commons defeated the Meighen administration."

The Real Issue
"This morning's dissolution had been obtained by the defeated ministry, a ministry which a resolution of the commons had decided never to have had the right to exist. On Monday a dissolution was denied to a ministry which had not met with a single defeat in parliament in a period of over four and one-half years."

"In these circumstances the issue," which above all others, is now before the people, is whether or not government in Canada is to be carried on in accordance with the expressed will of the people's representatives in parliament under a system of responsible self-government."

THOUSAND MEN NOW WORKING ON H.B. RAILWAY

Winnipeg, July 6.—One thousand men are expected to be at work on the Hudson Bay line within the next ten days, according to Mayor Wm. Burt. The Pas, who says the building is advancing at a great rate.

During the last two weeks of June, thirty thousand ties were distributed along the Hudson Bay Railway, it was stated in a bulletin issued yesterday by the On-to-the-Bay Association. The track gang, which has been increased to 350, has reached Mile 250, where defective ties are being replaced.

Mayor Burt, who wrote the association, announces that fourteen outfits are working between The Pas and Mile 256. Six trains are needed to keep them going.

"The line is rapidly taking on the appearance of a real railway," he declares, "and for the first 82 miles at least is in as good shape as any in the west."

ELECTION DAY DATE MAY BE ANNOUNCED THIS WEEK

Toronto, July 7.—The Mail and Empire this morning published the following special dispatch from its correspondent in Ottawa:

"Premier Meighen has made unusual and gratifying progress in the work of forming his government, and your correspondent learns that the task is almost completed. Unless an unexpected hitch occurs, the new Conservative cabinet will be announced before the end of the present week."

"Equally reliable information is to the effect that possible election dates have been narrowed down to within a few days at the middle of September. The date to be finally selected this week possibly will be Wednesday, September 15."

AN INVESTMENT IN NATIONAL SAFETY

Within the week the United States Senate has passed a bill, costing $40,000,000 a year, to increase army air service personnel and build 1600 new airplanes, and another bill, costing $85,000,000, to improve the naval air service.

Among all the tides of oratory that engulf the American Senate, it took senators just 16 minutes to pass these bills authorizing a total annual expenditure of $125,000,000 on air development.

United States, with no more to protect, no greater future, no finer inheritance than Canada, will spend more than one dollar per head of population per year to erect an air force to protect what she has.

Canada, with minerals, timber, lands, waterpowers, arming the avian of the entire world, chokes at spending a few measly thousands to keep three or four air stations going across the Dominion. Recently, if vigorous protests had not been made by sensible Canadians, some of these stations.

Canada's lack of initiative in air development is going to imperil the whole North American continent, perhaps all Anglo-Saxon civilization.

Certainly, as aircraft becomes an increasingly important fact in commercial transportation, Canada's lethargy will place Canadian industry in an inferior position.

From the standpoint of protecting the white civilization on this continent from foreign aggression, North America is an air unit. Some joint plan, arranged between Canada and United States for the protection of the Anglo-Saxon new world should already be in operation.

We have leaned upon the British to protect our European interests. Are we going to have gall enough to lean upon United States to protect our national integrity in the Pacific?—Vancouver Sun.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Time was when the mature gentleman who roamed about on the streets wore anything more sprightly in the way of headgear than black or pearl grey, he was regarded as doing something slightly indecent.

But time has wrought a change. And many a gallantly strapping day shields from the sun the pate of our best and most serious-minded citizens. We no longer twist our necks as the male marches by in brave cranial array.

Is this significant? Does it portend anything?

We have witnessed the evolution of shirts from drab shades to irresponsible blues, bright pinks and variegated stripes. We have seen two-toned shoes come and go. Neckties have burst forth in blazes of glory and golf sweaters have put on chameleon hues.

Can it be that man has definitely emancipated himself from his slavery to neutral tones?

Women have decked themselves in the colors of the rainbow and man has looked on with envious eyes. But sooner or later it had to happen.

attack in a novel way. In the West Griffith wins the confidence of Swain and is made manager of the mine. Just when he is about to get away with the gold Swain discovers his identity and the people of the town are about to hang him. The girls save their hero.

At last Griffith reaches a Confederate camp with the gold, taking Swain and the girls with him. He learns that Lee has surrendered the day before. Swain turns back toward home but his niece refuses to leave Griffith, who agrees with the uncle that he cannot marry both and cannot decide which one to give up.

How the silk hat comedian finds a way out of his love dilemma provides a refreshingly different ending to the exciting story. Rigmold Morris is the author of it. Monty Brice and Lloyd Corrigan adapted it to the screen and Clarence Badger directed it.

JUNIOR STARS MAKE DEBUT IN BYRON MORGAN COMEDY

Age looks at it with envy. Never will it come again. Youth! Happy, snappy, peppy "Fascinating Youth!" Paramount's latest pictureization of a Byron Morgan story, "Fascinating Youth," comes to the Empress Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week. It is novel in every sense of the word. The story concerns itself with a group of young people who set out to put an old hotel "on its feet" by using modern, up-to-date advertising methods.

The cast is composed of the Paramount Junior Stars, students of the Paramount Picture School. This, their first picture, gives them all equal chances to "register and get over." After it has been shown, citizens of Macleod, may have a new group of favorite screen players because each "Starlet" has done his or her best to make the film a sensational success. Sam Wood directed. Paul Schofield is credited with the scenario.

PRE-NATAL LETTERS AND ADVICE

The system of distribution of pre-natal literature recently arranged by the Child Hygiene Section of the Canadian Council on Child Welfare, and the Provincial Health Departments of the various provinces has proved extremely successful. Upon application to the Provincial Departments of Health or to the Canadian Council on Child Welfare at Ottawa, a series of pre-natal letters is forwarded regularly, free of charge. Applications have been received from scattered outposts, far in the interior of the provinces, scores of mailboxes from the railways and miles from a post office. Other applications come from the large centres of population with well established health services, where doctors or nurses have advised their patients to avail themselves of the excellent information available in these letters.

The letters have been prepared by an especially well qualified committee of medical men, and were distributed only after consultation with the Provincial Departments of Health. They are designed to contribute to the superb effort the Canadian people are making to reduce their infant and maternal mortality rate, and to improve the whole average of infant health across the Dominion by carrying pre-natal advice and information to the expectant mother in the home. A letter to the Provincial Department or to the Canadian Council on Child Welfare, Plaza Building, Ottawa, will bring the letter service free.

The dime novel is with us yet, except that it has become rather smutty and gone up to $2.00.

It is universally known that milk besides being a refreshing drink is a very valuable food, supplying the necessary elements for growth and health in an easily digestible form. Unfortunately, many adults and some children have a distaste for milk in its natural state. The Dominion Department of Agriculture has just issued a small circular distributed free by its Publication Branch, Ottawa, which gives a number of recipes for milk drinks.

The annual picnic in connection with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School and congregation was held in McLean's Grove on Wednesday afternoon. These were joined by the Presbyterian congregations of Granum and Jumbo Valley. There was a large turn out from each place, over 200 in all being assembled on the grounds, where a very sociable afternoon was spent in friendly conversation, games and races of various kinds.

First was a football match between Macleod and stalwarts from the north and west, which resulted in an easy victory for the latter, the score being 4 to 1. Rev. Thompson, of Granum, and J. D. Matheson defended the respective goals in a very capable fashion. This was followed by a ladies football match by the same divisions. In this the ladies from the north carried off the laurels in a very exciting game winning by 1 to 0. Then followed races of various sorts by children and adults all of which were very nobly contested.

Threatening clouds in the north sent the people in haste to partake of the sumptuous repast prepared by the ladies. By the time that this was over a few drops of rain began to fall and people began to hurry homewards. The last reports to hand are we go to press informed that all the stragglers have arrived safely. Everyone was delighted with the day outing, and even the few drops of rain that fell didn't in the least dampen their ardor or their desire

During the electrical storm of Wednesday evening a bolt of lightning burned out the switches and control apparatus at the power plant, causing considerable damage and interrupting the lighting service for several minutes—the interruption would have been of much longer duration but for the fact that steam is constantly kept up in the boiler of the steam plant by an ingenious system of heating from the exhaust of the gas engine—costing nothing in fuel and providing an emergency plant to fall back on in case of unavoidable accidents as above.
